

How much does one ton of Peruvian power fiber optic cable cost

Article Overview

The average export price of Peruvian optical fiber cables in 2024 was approximately $6,235 per ton.

In 2024, Peru exported optical fiber cables at an average price of $6,235 per ton, which represents a relatively stable figure compared to the previous year, though significantly lower than historical peaks such as $34,025 per ton in 2017 . The price reflects the global market dynamics, including supply-demand balance, technological advancements, and competitive pressures in the fiber optic industry . Import prices into Peru were slightly higher, averaging $6,681 per ton in 2024, marking a 3.3% increase from the previous year . This difference between import and export prices is influenced by factors such as shipping costs, tariffs, and sourcing from international suppliers. Factors affecting fiber optic cable pricing include:

- Cable type and fiber count: Single-mode fiber is generally cheaper per foot than multimode fiber, but installation and equipment costs vary .
- Construction and durability: Armored or plenum-rated cables suitable for harsh environments cost more .
