

Indian electrical distribution box manufacturer

Article Overview

India has a wide range of electrical distribution box manufacturers catering to residential, commercial, and industrial applications, including IDIS India, Vaibhav Laxmi Industries, and numerous suppliers listed on trade platforms.

Leading Manufacturers

IDIS India specializes in electrical distribution boards for both residential and industrial applications. They offer enclosures for MCBs, neutral links, earth bars, and cable management, with materials tailored for mechanical strength and safety depending on the application. Vaibhav Laxmi Industries (VLI) is another prominent manufacturer providing reliable and high-quality distribution boxes designed for effective power management and uninterrupted performance.

Marketplaces and Supplier Listings

Several online platforms list multiple manufacturers and suppliers across India:

- IndiaMART provides a directory of power distribution box manufacturers, suppliers, and exporters, including contact details and addresses.
- ExportersIndia lists verified suppliers offering distribution boxes, power distribution panels, and feeder pillars, allowing comparison of prices and bulk deals.
- TradeIndia offers a comprehensive list of manufacturers, suppliers, and dealers, including product specifications, certifications, minimum order quantities, and payment options.
