

Nordic Fiberglass Cable Tray Manufacturer

Article Overview

Nordic Wire Tray, with its X-Tray system, is widely regarded as the leading Nordic manufacturer of fiberglass cable trays.

Overview of Nordic Wire Tray

Nordic Wire Tray specializes in customizable fiberglass cable trays under the X-Tray brand, designed to meet diverse project requirements. Their trays are engineered for harsh environments, offering long lifespan, high load capacity, and compliance with IEC 61537 standards. The system emphasizes fast installation, with the market's longest bracket distance, reducing assembly time and costs. Nordic Wire Tray also provides tailored solutions for both thin and thick cables, ensuring flexibility and safety in industrial, commercial, and infrastructure projects.

Key Advantages

- Durability and Corrosion Resistance: Fiberglass construction ensures resistance to chemical exposure, moisture, and coastal conditions, minimizing maintenance needs.
- Customizability: The X-Tray system can be adapted to unique project specifications, including special sizes, materials, and surface treatments.
- Ease of Installation: Intuitive design features, pre-packaged components, and long bracket distances reduce labor and installation time.
- Safety and Compliance: Designed to meet international standards, providing stable support and protection for electrical cables.
