

South African pigtail cable manufacturer

Article Overview

Key South African manufacturers capable of supplying pigtail cables include Mwanga Afrika Cables, CBI African Cables, and Aberdare Cables.

Leading Manufacturers

Mwanga Afrika Cables (Pty) Ltd is a black-owned South African company specializing in medium and high voltage power cables, including copper and aluminium options. They design and manufacture cables to meet local and international standards, and their product range supports renewable energy and industrial applications, which often includes short connection cables like pigtails for installations . CBI African Cables (now CBI-electric) has been manufacturing electric power cables since 1935 at its Vereeniging facility. They produce a comprehensive range of low, medium, and high voltage cables suitable for mining, utilities, industry, and renewable energy projects. Their expertise in specialized cable designs and turnkey installations makes them a reliable source for pigtail cables and related accessories . Aberdare Cables is Southern Africa's largest supplier of energy interconnection products, with three manufacturing sites in South Africa. They offer a wide variety of low and medium voltage cables, including solutions for industrial, commercial, and railway applications. Aberdare's engineering services and SABS-approved products ensure compliance and quality, making them a strong candidate for sourcing pigtail cables .
