

What color baseboard goes with a gray cabinet

Article Overview

White or a complementary shade of gray are the most versatile baseboard choices for gray cabinets, with options for subtle contrast or bold accent depending on your style.

White Baseboards

White baseboards are a classic choice that pairs beautifully with gray cabinets, creating a crisp, clean, and timeless look. They brighten the space and provide a subtle contrast that highlights the cabinetry without overwhelming the room. This combination works well in modern, minimalist, or traditional kitchens and can make the space feel larger and more open. Keep in mind that white baseboards require regular cleaning to maintain their pristine appearance .

Gray Baseboards

Using a gray baseboard that matches or slightly contrasts with your cabinets creates a cohesive and elegant look. Lighter gray baseboards can brighten the room and add subtle contrast, while darker gray shades provide depth and definition. This approach works particularly well if you want a seamless transition between the cabinets and the floor or walls, maintaining a sophisticated, monochromatic palette .
