

Where can I find fiberglass cable tray covers

Article Overview

Fiberglass cable tray covers are available from specialized suppliers such as ATKORE, GangLong Fiberglass, and local distributors like A Group in Manchester.

Supplier Options

- ATKORE ATKORE offers fiberglass cable tray flat covers in both flat and peaked designs, made from polyester or vinyl ester resin. These covers are typically available in 10-foot lengths and are designed to protect cables where additional shielding is required . Their products are suitable for industrial and commercial applications.
- GangLong Fiberglass GangLong provides a wide range of FRP (fiberglass reinforced plastic) cable trays and ladder systems, including covers. Their products are designed for heavy-duty and standard applications in offices, hospitals, factories, data centers, and warehouses. They emphasize durability, corrosion resistance, and long-term performance .
- A Group (Manchester) This supplier offers fiberglass ladder-type cable trays with coatings for corrosion resistance. Their trays and covers are available in heights of 100 mm and 150 mm and thicknesses ranging from 3 mm to 6 mm. They focus on high-quality materials and flexible designs suitable for industrial installations .

Additional Considerations

- Material and Design: Fiberglass covers are corrosion-resistant and lightweight, making them ideal for environments where moisture or chemical exposure is a concern. Options include flat, peaked, or ventilated designs for heat dissipation.
